

Performance through innovation from tradition

- 1941 Albert Ansorg founded the metalworking company in Schleusingen
- 1945 After the complete removal by the Red Army he started his business again
- 1949 Drilling machines and band saws are the most important final products at this time
- 1955 The specialisation on parts of nozzles, pumps and valves took place
- 1956 Joachim Kern took over the management and developed the company into a modern and innovative industrial enterprise.
- 1961 Development and series production of the first electromagnet GM1
- 1972 Despite the nationalisation the enterprise could further expand under the management by Joachim Kern
- 1980 Integration into the combine of ORSTA Hydraulik Leipzig
- 1982 Hans-Jürgen Kern took over the management of the company
- 1991 Hans-Jürgen Kern reprivatised the company and developed it into an national and international operating middle sized company
- 1995 Reconstruction of the administrative building
- 1998 Reconstruction of the production hall
- 2001 60-year company anniversary
10-year reprivatisation

